Financial net

Net financial items for the first quarter of 2009 improved to SEK -107m, compared to SEK -144m for the corresponding period in the previous year. The improvement is mainly due to lower interest rates on borrowings.

Market overview

Most of Electrolux main markets for appliances showed a decline in the first quarter of 2009. The North American market has declined for eleven consecutive quarters. In the first quarter, industry shipments in the US declined by 16%. The European market has been falling for five consecutive quarters, with Eastern Europe showing a continued dramatic downturn in the first quarter, declining by 31%. Demand in Western Europe declined by 9% and the total market in Europe by 15%. After a long period of strong growth, the Latin American market for appliances has declined for two consecutive quarters.

There are no indications of an immediate improvement in any of the Group's main markets, and therefore market demand for appliances around the world is expected to decline further in 2009.

Business areas

Changes in net sales and operating income by business area in comparable currencies are given on page 14.

Core appliances

Industry shipments of appliances in Europe declined by 15% in the first quarter of 2009 in comparison with the same period last year. Deliveries in Western Europe declined by 9%. Demand continued to fall in a number of the Group's major markets, including Italy, Great Britain and the Nordic region. Demand in Germany continued to increase somewhat during the quarter. Deliveries of appliances in Eastern Europe showed a sharp reduction in the first quarter, declining by 31%. Weak market demand led to lower sales for the Group in comparison with the first quarter of 2008.

Operating income for the first quarter of 2008 was adversely affected by non-recurring costs in the net amount of approximately SEK -350m (see page 2). Operating income for the first quarter of 2009 was in line with the first quarter of 2008, exclusive of these non-recurring costs. Lower volumes and reduced utilization of capacity at the Group's plants had a negative effect on income. Higher average sales prices, cost-reductions in production and administration, and the effects of previously authorized personnel cutbacks had a positive impact on operating income.

Floor-care products

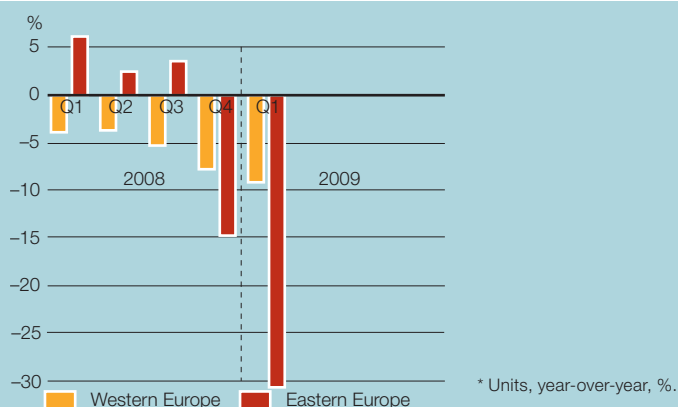

Demand for vacuum cleaners in Europe continued to decline in the first quarter of 2009 in comparison with the same period in 2008. Group sales decreased as a result of lower sales volumes.

Operating income and margin declined as a result of lower volumes, higher costs for USD-priced outsourced products, and a less favorable product mix. In addition, operating income for the first quarter was adversely affected by the costs of guarantees for a number of battery-driven vacuum cleaners which had to be recalled.

Major appliances

Industry shipments of core appliances in the US declined by 16% in the first quarter of 2009 in comparison with the corresponding period last year. These shipments have declined for eleven consecutive quarters.

Group sales of appliances in North America in comparable currencies were lower in the first quarter as a result of continued low sales volumes and the on-going shift in demand to products with lower prices. The decline in sales was offset to some extent by price increases in 2008. Sales in SEK was positively impacted by translation from USD.

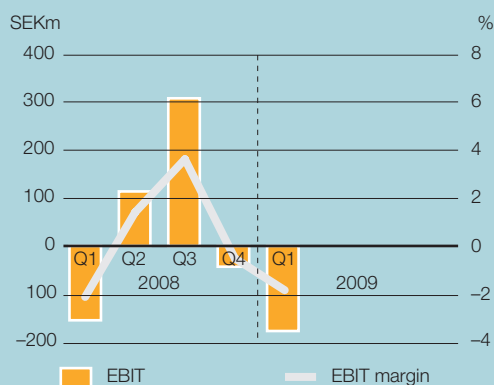

Operating income for the first quarter of 2009 was in line with the same period previous year. Implemented price increases and cost reductions offset lower volumes, investments in the Electrolux brand and higher costs for purchase of steel.

The new Electrolux-branded products continued to contribute to an improvement in the product mix. The net effect of the launch of Electrolux on operating income for the first quarter amounted to approximately SEK -200m. The market share of the Electrolux brand in the premium segment is estimated at approximately 5%.

Floor-care products

Market demand for vacuum cleaners in North America continued to show a decline in the first quarter of 2009. Sales and income for the Group's vacuum-cleaner operation in North America decreased as a result of lower sales volumes, which were offset to some extent by an improved product mix and higher sales prices.

It is estimated that industry shipments of appliances in Brazil and other major Latin American markets declined during the last quarter of 2008 and the first quarter of 2009 following a long period of growth.

Electrolux sales volumes in Latin America in the first quarter were in line with the same period last year. Sales increased on the basis of a better customer mix. The Group gained additional market shares particularly in Brazil and Venezuela.

Operating income for the first quarter was lower, mainly as a result of negative exchange-rate effects. USD-priced purchases of products from China and raw materials adversely affected operating income. The decline in operating income was partly offset by price increases.

Australia and New Zealand

In Australia, market demand for appliances showed a slight decrease. Group sales in comparable currencies rose as a result of higher sales volumes and price increases. Electrolux continued to gain market share. Operating income and margin improved somewhat in comparable currencies on the basis of implemented cost reductions and price increases, despite negative currency effects of purchases of USD-priced products.

Southeast Asia and China

Overall market growth in Southeast Asia is estimated to have slowed down somewhat in the first quarter of 2009 in comparison with the same period last year. The Group's sales volumes were lower, but sales rose somewhat as a result of price increases and a favorable product mix. Operating income declined slightly.

Market statistics for shipments of appliances in China show a sharp reduction of approximately 25% in the first quarter of 2009 in comparison with the same period in 2008. Operating income for the operations in China was negatively impacted by costs related to exiting from the low-price refrigerator segments.

Market demand for food-service equipment is estimated to have declined in the first quarter of 2009 in comparison with the same period last year. While fewer new projects were started, demand for replacement products declined simultaneously as many customers are postponing purchases of new equipment. In the first quarter Group sales of food-service equipment declined significantly in comparable currencies as a result of lower sales volumes. Operating income decreased due to lower capacity utilization at production facilities. Personnel cutbacks in administration had a favorable effect on income.

Demand in the market for laundry equipment is estimated to have declined in the first quarter of 2009 in comparison with the same period in 2008. Group sales decreased as a result of lower volumes, but market shares were maintained. Operating income declined as a result of lower capacity utilization in production facilities, partly offset by cost savings.

Cash flow

Cash flow from operations and investments amounted to SEK -65m (-489) in the first quarter. Cash flow is normally seasonally low in the first quarter.

Cash flow in the first quarter of 2009 reflects the weak market as well as adjustment of production and inventories. As in the fourth quarter of 2008, production continued to be adjusted in response to lower demand and temporary production shutdowns were implemented.

Cash flow from operations was negatively impacted in the amount of approximately SEK 280m referring to payments related to ongoing restructuring programs and cost-cutting.

Changes in trade receivables referred mainly to seasonally lower sales volumes in the first quarter. Changes in inventories and accounts payable were traceable to inventory reductions and lower production levels that reflected lower demand in most of the Group's markets.

Capital expenditure in the first quarter was lower in comparable currencies than in the same period in the previous year and referred mainly to investments in plants for new products and to reinvestments.

Cash flow from investments in the first quarter of 2008 was affected by a divestment of a real estate in the amount of approximately SEK 130m.

Launch of premium products in North America

In April 2008, Electrolux was introduced as a major appliance brand in North America. The new products have received good market acceptance, and the Group has gained market share in the premium segment. This market share is estimated at approximately 5%.

In 2009, Electrolux is utilizing the weak market situation by taking an even greater market share, but not by using price to compete. Investments in marketing for the whole of 2009 will continue. The launch had a negative impact on operating income in the net amount of approximately SEK 200m in the first quarter of 2009.

Structural changes

Higher efficiency at the plant in Porcia, Italy

Electrolux will re-engineer production at the washing machine plant in Porcia, Italy, in order to increase efficiency and productivity. This involves a cost of SEK 132m, which was taken as a charge against operating income in the first quarter of 2009, within items affecting comparability.

The plant in St. Petersburg, Russia, will be closed

Electrolux will close the plant in St. Petersburg, Russia, in 2010. Production comprises washing machines mainly for the Russian market, with approximately 250 employees.

The closure is scheduled for completion in the second quarter of 2010. The shutdown involves a total cost of approximately SEK 105m, which was taken as a charge against operating income in the first quarter of 2009, within items affecting comparability.

Changsha plant in China has been closed

As previously announced, Electrolux discontinued production at the Changsha plant in China in the first quarter of 2009. The closure of the factory involved a total cost of approximately SEK 187m, which was taken as a charge against operating income in the first quarter of 2009, within items affecting comparability. The cost of the closure was higher than originally anticipated. About 700 employees were affected by the closure. Distribution of appliances is now concentrated to gain a strong position in the premium segment.

Other items

Changes in Group Management

Dr Detlef Münchow, Executive Vice President of AB Electrolux and sector head of Professional Products, will be leaving the Group at the end of September 2009. Search for new head of Professional Products has commenced.

Asbestos litigation in the US

Litigation and claims related to asbestos are pending against the Group in the US. Almost all of the cases refer to externally supplied components used in industrial products manufactured by discontinued operations prior to the early 1970s. Some of the cases involve multiple plaintiffs who have made identical allegations against many other defendants who are not part of the Electrolux Group.

As of March 31, 2009, the Group had a total of 2,790 (2,130) cases pending, representing approximately 3,320 (approximately 2,740) plaintiffs. During the first quarter of 2009, 230 new cases with approximately 230 plaintiffs were filed and 79 pending cases with approximately 130 plaintiffs were resolved. Approximately 220 of the plaintiffs relate to cases pending in the state of Mississippi.

Additional lawsuits may be filed against Electrolux in the future. It is not possible to predict either the number of future claims or the number of plaintiffs that any future claims may represent. In addition, the outcome of asbestos claims is inherently uncertain and always difficult to predict and Electrolux cannot provide any assurances that the resolution of these types of claims will not have a material adverse effect on its business or on results of operations in the future.

Annual General Meeting 2009

Dividend

The AGM 2009 decided in accordance with the Board of Directors' proposal that no dividend will be paid for 2008, as a result of the low income for the period, continuing weak market conditions and the on-going cost-reduction programs that will affect cash flow in 2009. A zero dividend is in line with existing policy, with reference to the low income for the period.

Re-election of Board members

The AGM 2009 adopted the proposal of the Nomination Committee for Board members and Chairman of the Board.

Marcus Wallenberg, Peggy Bruzelius, Torben Ballegaard Sørensen, Hasse Johansson, John S. Lupo, Barbara Milian Thoralfsson, Johan Molin, Hans Stråberg and Caroline Sundewall were re-elected to the Board. Marcus Wallenberg was appointed Chairman of the Board of Directors.

Electrolux initiated a restructuring program in 2004 to make the Group's production competitive in the long term. When it is fully implemented in 2010, more than half of production of appliances will be located in low-cost countries and savings will amount to approximately SEK 3 billion annually. Restructuring provisions and write-downs are reported as items affecting comparability within operating income. For information on provisions in the first quarter of 2009, see table on page 10.

At the statutory Board meeting following the AGM, Peggy Bruzelius was re-elected Deputy Chairman of the Board. For information on Board members, please visit www.electrolux.com.

Repurchase and transfer of own shares

For several years, Electrolux has on the basis of authorizations by the AGM acquired and transferred own shares. The purpose of the share-repurchase programs has been to enable adapting the capital structure of the Group and thereby to contribute to increased shareholder value, or to use the repurchased shares in conjunction with the financing of potential acquisitions and the Group's share-related incentive programs.

In accordance with the proposal by the Board of Directors, the AGM decided to authorize the Board to transfer own shares on the account of company acquisitions during the period up until the AGM in 2010. The Board of Directors did not request any mandate from the AGM to repurchase additional shares in the company.

The AGM also authorized transfers of up to 3,000,000 repurchased B-shares to cover costs that may arise as a result of the previous employee stock-option programs for 2002-2003 and the Electrolux Performance Share Program 2007.

As of March 31, 2009, Electrolux held 25,338,804 B-shares, corresponding to 8.2% of the total number of outstanding shares, see table on page 11.

Risks and uncertainty factors

Risks in connection with the Group's operations can, in general, be divided into operational risks related to business operations and those related to financial operations. Operational risks are normally managed by the operative units within the Group, and financial risks by the Group's treasury department.

Risks and uncertainty factors

Electrolux operates in competitive markets, most of which are relatively mature. Demand for appliances varies with general business conditions, and price competition is strong in a number of product categories. Electrolux ability to increase profitability and shareholder value is largely dependent on its success in developing innovative products and maintaining cost-efficient production. Major factors for maintaining and increasing competitiveness include managing fluctuations in prices for raw materials and components as well as implementing restructuring. In addition to these operative risks, the Group is exposed to risks related to financial operations, e.g., interest risks, financing risks, currency risks and credit risks. The Group's development is strongly affected by external factors, of which the most important in terms of managing risks currently include:

Variations in demand

Demand for appliances is affected by the general business cycle. A deterioration in these conditions may lead to lower sales volumes as well as a shift of demand to low-price products, which generally have lower margins. Utilization of production capacity may also decline in the short term. The global economic trend is an uncertainty factor in terms of the development of earnings in 2009.

Price competition

A number of the markets in which Electrolux operates features strong price competition. The Group's strategy is based on innovative products and brand-building, and is aimed among other things at minimizing and offsetting price competition for its products. A continued downturn in market conditions involves a risk of increasing price competition.

Changes in prices for raw materials and components

The raw materials to which the Group is mainly exposed comprise steel, plastics, copper and aluminum. Bilateral agreements are used to manage price risks. To some extent, raw materials are purchased at spot prices. There is considerable uncertainty regarding trends for the prices of raw materials.

Access to financing

In 2008, the Group improved its loan-maturity profile and thus substantially reduced dependence on short-term borrowings. Electrolux has an unused revolving credit facility for long- or short-term back-up.

Risks, risk management and risk exposure are described in more detail in the Annual report 2008, www.electrolux.com/annualreport2008.

New accounting standards

IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements (Revised)

The Group has implemented the revised IAS 1, which is effective as of January 1, 2009. As a consequence, the Group's consolidated income statement includes items of other comprehensive income.
