Electrolux Group Supplier Workplace Standard

1. Purpose

Electrolux Group has a long tradition of providing safe and healthy working conditions and caring for the environment as well as our own employees and people around us.

An important fundament for these efforts is the Group Workplace Policy and the Supplier Workplace Standard. These define minimum acceptable standards for health and safety, environment, labor, and human rights – in all countries, wherever we operate. They are based on internationally recognized treaties and agreements, such as the core conventions of the International Labor Organization, the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the International Bill of Human Rights, and the UN Global Compact.

2. Electrolux Group Policy Statement

Electrolux Group is dedicated to being a responsible employer and a good corporate citizen, with products and solutions that contribute to improving people's lives around the world. All our activities – including the sourcing, manufacturing, distribution, and sale of products – must be conducted with respect and consideration for human rights, for human safety and health, and for the environment.

This commitment includes the respect and support of labor rights as set out by the ILO Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work, as well as the respect and support of broader human rights covered by the International Bill of Human Rights.

We strive for continuous improvement with sustainability as a core focus in all our operations and activities in which we are involved.

The Electrolux Group Supplier Workplace Standard (hereinafter referred to as "the Standard") and the Group Workplace Directive (hereinafter referred to as "the Directive") reflect our ambition to be a good corporate citizen, and address expectations of our stakeholders.

3. Scope and Implementation

The Standard is applicable to all suppliers of the Electrolux Group, and compliance is required. The same requirements apply to our own operations, and this is detailed in the Group Workplace Policy. Any changes in the Workplace Policy, must lead to the corresponding changes in the Supplier Workplace Standard.

It is the responsibility of the supplier management to implement and ensure compliance with the Standard. This responsibility includes regular education of own employees. Suppliers' employees are responsible for acting in accordance with this Standard.

It is the responsibility of Electrolux Group to include the requirements of the Standard in the terms of the business relationship, to inform and educate suppliers about the Standard, and monitor compliance.
